

One company profile. Many ways to reach market research buyers.

The right listing in the Greenbook Directory ensures buyers find you first, view your expertise as credible, and include you on their shortlist.

Be there when buyers look for partners. Generate leads. Grow your business.

Why the Greenbook Directory Matters for Your Marketing in the Age of Al.

Don't miss out on Al search and discovery.

Market research buyers are changing how they search, shifting from traditional search engines to Al-first search, which often leaves individual company websites hidden. For research businesses, this means fewer clicks, fewer leads, and fewer opportunities to make the shortlist.

To reach buyers at every stage of their journey, research companies need visibility on Al search platforms.

This is where the Greenbook Directory adds value.

With over 60 years of industry authority, 1,000+ company profiles, and 387 specialties, it is one of the most cited and trusted sources in market research. Structured and content-rich, the Directory is optimized for inclusion and citation in Al answer engines.

A Directory profile makes it easier for Al search to surface your company, products, and people, citing Greenbook as the authority. We support you in building brand presence where it counts.

Compelling for Buyers. Optimized for Al

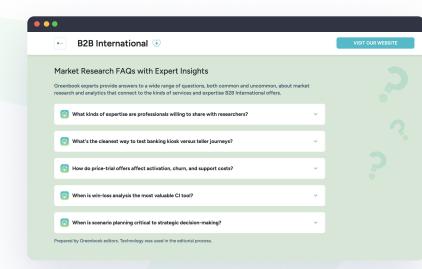

Buyers don't only browse, they build shortlists. Al doesn't only scan, it synthesizes. To be recommended by Al and chosen by buyers, your profile needs structured, proof-based content that is properly formatted.

Expert-written FAQs:

Greenbook experts answer a wide range of questions, both common and uncommon, about market research and analytics. These frequently asked questions connect to the services your company offers and are embedded in your listing. We provide the expert content that strengthens your visibility.

Content integration:

Add webinars, podcasts, reports, news, and more. This aligns with the success formula for both buyers and Al: authority, context, and clear attribution. Make sure your expert voice is in the conversation.

The result: Buyers are confident to engage. Leads follow.

Project showcase:

Share short descriptions of successful projects - examples of what you do. Buyers want proof of expertise before they engage, and nothing builds trust faster than seeing your track record. Submitting a Project is quick and simple with a built-in Al assistant. Projects will travel beyond your listing, on Greenbook.org, in our emails, and off-site in Al and search to help brands find ideas and resources as they think through solutions to their specific problems.

Buyers Choose the Firms They Trust. So Does Al

Al tools weigh credibility signals heavily. Reviews, testimonials, and authoritative mentions shape which firms are recommended. Without them, you risk being overlooked.

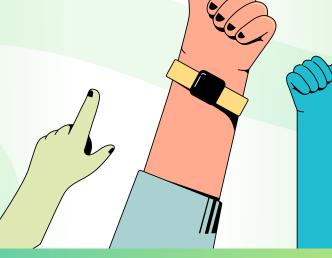

Standard and Advanced listing packages enable full credibility features:

- Collect and manage client reviews and testimonials highlight the best! These reviews are fully visible to search and AI crawlers and structured in a way that adds to your online presence.
- Earn badges that travel with your brand across the web and social media. These Greenbook-branded trust marks speak to the reputation you have built in the industry.
- Build authority that both humans and algorithms respect.

Greenbook Directory. Trusted by market researchers. Trusted by Al models.
Built to help you earn the trust of your prospective clients.
